

CONSERVATIVE POLICY FORUM

CPF

The CPF is the national group that enables Party members to discuss the major policy challenges facing our country and to have their voices heard.

It is chaired by George Freeman MP, who also chairs the Prime Minister's Policy Board. With active groups in every region, the CPF is the best way for members of the Party to help shape future policy on the issues affecting all of our lives and communities.

The CPF plays a key role in ensuring that Party members have the opportunity to help shape Government Policy. We need to make the most of all of the talent that exists within our Party, and harness our members' enthusiasm.

THE RT HON THERESA MAY MP

"The dedicated work of the CPF and its members is a real asset to us in Government that is greatly appreciated. I look forward to the future contributions the CPF will make as we continue to demonstrate that it is the Conservative Party that is coming up with the answers to the challenges working people in Britain face."
